

Private Residence and Pool Frodsham, Cheshire

Case Study

At this prestige house in Cheshire the owners had a new pool being added with top quality porcelain tiles selected for the paved terrace surround. They had been advised to be sure that the pointing they used would not discolour or stain the tiles and that it was suitable for the narrow joints between these larger format pavers, plus also very importantly, that it would be durable in this environment..

After researching the subject online and their paving suppliers, they contacted CR Services who they found had provided successful solutions for these demands on other projects. Following their past positive experience, CRS immediately recommended the use of GftK's vdw 815+ Paving Joint Mortar from NCC Streetscape, as undoubtedly the best pointing mortar for use on this project as well.

GftK's vdw 815+ is quick and easy to install by wet-slurry application, which also meant no waiting for dry weather forecasts during British Summertime. It is a unique, 'state of the art' material based on epoxy-bound, graded sands, and which is purpose designed for narrow (3-5mm x 20mm deep) joints in quality porcelain and prestige natural stone paving. Plus vdw 815+ is none staining (unlike cement based or gun-applied materials), and proven to be very durable in this type of environment – As well as looking great with porcelain!
