

Buckinghamshire Natural Sandstone Patio and Pathways

Case Study

Cleaning & Sealing Natural Sandstone Patios & Pathways in Buckinghamshire

This Buckinghamshire homeowner takes great pride in his natural sandstone patio and pathways, and was keen to bring them back to pristine condition. A long wet UK winter, had left a build-up of stubborn dark deposits, mainly caused by plants and leaf stains, together with blackspots caused by lichens that had accumulated in the surface pores.

As in previous years, he contacted NCC Streetscape, who he had found online, and who had given advice on the best products to use. NCC recommended initial jet washing and cleaning with NCC Grime Remover, a powerful and highly effective general cleaner, followed by NCC Black Spot and Green Growth Remover. This was left overnight to penetrate deeply and work to remove residual green growths and the dark 'blackspots', then the surfaces were finally jet-washed to restore the original colours of the natural sandstone.

To keep his patio and pathways looking good and to assist in future cleaning, the surfaces were left a few days to allow to dry, and then were sealed using GftK vdw 950 3-in-1 Stain Protect, a unique type of impregnating paving sealer, which gives surface protection and will help prevent future staining.
