Case Study

The extensive paving for the courtyard garden and pathways around this house in Farnham was completed using random sized, Calder Brown Heritage Flagstones with clay brick detailing and edging, including a precast circular feature in the centre.

Buds Landscapes were appointed to carry out the works, which all had to be undertaken without delays in the Spring, despite cold, wet weather being forecast.

NCC Streetscape supplied the unique vdw 800 Pavement Jointing Mortar for Buds, as it is quickly applied as a slurry and can even be used in the rain, so they could ensure the works would continue uninterrupted – whatever the weather!

Additionally, vdw 800 Jointing Mortar is non-staining and provides a tough, durable paved surface, fully resistant against weed growth and infestation or attack by boring insects.

As a result the owners now have a very attractive hard landscaped garden that was completed on time and which they were able to use as soon as the weather improved.
